

Venture Industrialists

There's a new sheriff in town

These are seismic shifts happening

Strategic acquisitions

are the new R&D

...a new breed of "investor/inventor/strategist" whose focus is on the Industrial Internet. We call them the the ability to create an ecosystem to help you co-innovate & co-solve is critical

We're turning the VC model upside down

Entrepreneurs are nimble and creative, which is

There is no business as usual what the big companies need completely different types of information

Open innovation and interoperability instead of walled gardens
